Pamela B. Bumatay is a Senior Associate. Her practice areas include tort litigation and construction law. She has represented individuals, small business owners, and large corporations in various general liability and construction defect matters. Her clientele includes architects, engineers, and other design professionals. Ms. Bumatay has handled personal injury (ranging from soft tissue to traumatic brain injuries) as well as wrongful death claims arising out of motor vehicle and construction site accidents. Additional areas of her practice involve premises liability, breach of contract, products liability, and habitability/wrongful eviction matters. She has extensive experience handling cases through every stage of litigation. Ms. Bumatay takes pride in being an advocate for her client, utilizing discovery and motion work in advancing her client's position, defenses, and strategies. She has been successful in obtaining pertinent evidence and drafting winning motions that have disposed of or minimized claims for damages made against her clients.

Ms. Bumatay is admitted to practice before all courts of the State of California and the United States District Court, Northern District.
